

Prior to renewing your North Carolina vehicle registration, you must have your vehicle inspected no more than 90 days before your license plate expires. A record of your inspection is entered into the DMV database so paper inspection stickers are no longer affixed to your windshield. Click here for a list of inspection stations in Buncombe County.